PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 24, 1833.

Green Van Sickle, the late Postmaster at Claysville was, yesterday, arraigned in the District Court of the United States. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to twelve years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.—This occurrence is a lamentable one, and is a melancholy instance of human weakness. Van Sickle had, through life, as we are informed, supported an unblemished character—he was, however, at last led into temptation, and poor human nature proved too weak.

The connection with the Ohio Canal.—We are truly gratified to perceive that this improvement begins to attract a proper share of attention in Philadelphia.—In the last American Sentinel we noticed a long communication in favor of it. The editor, however, in an editorial paragraph, seems to entertain some doubt whether the proposed improvement is the best mode of counteracting the enterprizing schemes of New York.—We have no misgivings upon the subject; we fully believe that it is the best, and that it will be entirely effectual.—If that editor has in his mind any other project for this purpose, it would be well to place it before the public, that its merits may be discussed.

We know of but one other scheme, and verily believe that it can be shown that, if adopted, it will contribute to the further aggrandizement of New York.—That ours would be effectual, seems manifest from the single reflection, that the N. York improvements form the arc of a circle, of which those of Pennsylvania form the chord.—The New York rout is, therefore, a great deal longer than ours, and a part of it is not passable during a large portion of the year.

The New York and the Pennsylvania Canal.—We noticed the following paragraph, from the Portsmouth Courier, in the last Cleveland Herald:

"Though the increase of business on our canal has been vast, and beyond the anticipation of the most sanguine among us, there are many who are not aware of the advantages of the Ohio and Erie canals as channels of commercial intercourse between the eastern and western markets; and who consequently have been losers both in money and in time, which is as valuable, by taking other routs possessing unequal facilities. In illustration, we need only mention one fact, communicated by a merchant of Louisville, who passed through Portsmouth, a few days since, along with his goods.—He stated that making all possible allowance for the time necessary between this place and Louisville, and a delay here of two or three days, which seldom occurs now, and never at the usual stage of water, he would arrive at home with his goods in 21 days from New York, at the low cost of two dollars and twenty five cents per hundred. It may be proper to state, that this amount includes all expenses, he having exercised no agency in their progress, farther than if he had not been with them. He also stated that the lowest offer he had for transporting them by the other routs as far as Wheeling, was two dollars and seventy five cents per hundred; to which, if we add an estimate of at least 15 days as the time requisite to perform the trip down, and one dollar per hundred more for the freight, the reader will be able to appreciate the relative advantages of the routs."

We were much pleased to see this article, because coming, as it does, from the town situated on the Ohio river, at the point where the Canal terminates, we may be sure that it places the advantages of that rout of conveyance in the most favorable light. It appears, then, that goods may be transported from New York, by way of their Canal, Lake Erie, and the Ohio Canal, to Louisville, in twenty one days, at an expense of two dollars and twenty five cents per hundred pounds.—This, then, we take it, is the lowest rate, and the shortest time, in which goods can be transported from New York to Louisville by that rout, and in this sum, nothing is included, we presume, for insurance.—If, then, the same goods can be transported as quickly and cheaply from Philadelphia to Louisville, by the way of Pittsburgh, we may be well assured that the greater part of the goods will be purchased in Philadelphia, and forwarded by this rout. Indeed, our western merchants generally prefer dealing in Philadelphia, even if merchandise purchased there should cost a little more when they reach the home of the purchaser. Fortunately, however, for Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh, and Pennsylvania, we are not compelled to rely upon the caprice, or even the partialities of western merchants; we have the best security for their custom in their own interests. Even with our present incomplete line of improvement, and at this very time, when large steam boats cannot run, and when even smaller ones cannot run with full freights, goods may be carried, and are carried from Philadelphia to Louisville, for two dollars and thirty seven cents, viz: to Pittsburgh, one dollar and seventy five cens, and hence to Louisville, sixty two cents.—The time required is from sixteen to twenty days.

The freight from this place to Louisville is now high. The average rate of freight does not exceed from thirty one to thirty seven. So that, upon an average, through the year, goods may (even with our present incomplete improvement) be transported from Pittsburgh to Louisville, for two dollars six and one fourth cents, to two dollars twelve and one half cents.

Next spring, we calculate, that goods, purchased in Philadelphia, will be delivered in Louisville, in less than fifteen days, at a cost not exceeding one dollar seventy cents, and perhaps not exceeding one dollar and sixty cents.

"We understand that it is decided to convert the magnificent Palace of Versailles into a museum for receiving collections of paintings and sculpture, illustrative of the progress of these arts in France, and representing all the most celebrated victories gained by the national armies. The civil list, it is said, has appropriated between two and three millions of francs to this great work, which will be begun immediately."

For the Gazette.

Mr. Craig—The following lines were sent from New York, by an interesting female, to an illiterate person in Pittsburgh, who had given others equal cause of complaint.—He laughed at their calamities, and left Pittsburgh a few years since.

Yours, &c., S. P. R.

Yes, once at least you seemed to love,
 And I believed it then;
But nothing now my mind can move,
 To be deceived again—
There's not a word, or look, but tells
 That all thy love is o'er;
Thine eye upon my aspect dwells,
 For thee its fair no more.

There was a time—that hour is past—
 When I thy vows believed;
But now beside thee cast
 The fondness that deceived.
It must do so—
 The heart of man grows cold,
And woman's cheek will lose its glow,
 Long ere that cheek be old.

I know not why it was, thou strove
 To bind my heart to thine:
Alas! that woman's love
 Should be repaid like mine.
Why didst thou love me, if thy heart
 Thus quickly can forget?
Why didst thou tear those links apart
 Which nature's hand had set?

For thee, I, like a simple flower,
 Left the parent stem—
The roses droop in summer's bower,
 And I must fade like them;
Then what have I to do with earth,
 Without thy love to bless?
Life has no gleam of hope, or mirth,
 This world's a wilderness. E. D.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE.

COPY OF A LETTER TO A GENTLEMAN IN PHILADELPHIA.

I was present at the commencement of Washington College, which took place on the 25th of September. It was highly honorable and unusually interesting.

The exercises on the occasion were as follow: A procession, consisting of a band of music—the Students—the honorary speaker of the two literary societies, J. D. Mahon, Esq. of Pittsburgh, escorted by the committee of arrangement—the Alumni—the citizens of the town and country—Strangers—the Board of Trustees—and the Faculty, marched from the college hall to the Presbyterian church in the order above stated, and the exercises of the day thus continued.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

BENEDICTION.

The degree of A. B. was conferred on the following young gentlemen. Thomas M. Boggs, Wm. M. Crane, James Fleming, Robert Fulton, Alfred Gilmore, N. Napoleon Guille, James McClean, Wm. McKennan, Wm. McCombs, Benjamin Ramsey, Isaiah Steen, and James Sterling, twelve in all, and certainly promises well for an institution that has been reorganized only three years.

I was much more gratified with the commencement of the Western College, than I expected to be. The address of Mr. Mahon was of no ordinary kind: the train of thought embodied in the address was happy and instructive, the style and delivery of a finished composuist and an elegant speaker, and strongly marked, from beginning to end, with the talents and erudition of the author. As this address is to be published you will probably see it in print.

The addresses of the graduates were marked by a precision and chasteness of style that would have been creditable to older and more experienced practitioners, and spoke well for the attention that is paid to this important subject in this rising institution.

The Baccalaureate address to the graduates was such as might be expected from the worthy president of Washington College, full of bold, strong, original thought, and clothed in a diction equally strong and happy; and if we may judge from the interest the graduates manifested, during its delivery, they will long remember this parting advice from their Alma Mater.

From the Baltimore American.

FAREWELL MISSIONARY MEETING.

The Missionary pulse never beat so highly in the Methodist Churches in Baltimore as on Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, in Light street Church. The Missionaries for Western Africa, sent out by the New England Conference, the Rev. Messrs. Spaulding and Wright, with their wives, and Miss Farrington, a teacher, were present—having just arrived from Boston on their way to Norfolk, whence they are destined to embark on their perilous mission. The meeting was intended as their farewell to their brethren and sisters in Christ, in Baltimore, who had received them with open arms.

Even a careless spectator, on entering the church, would have noticed the deep interest depicted on a gazing audience that filled every nook and corner of stairs, aisles, seats, and wherever any space might be found to admit the length and width of a human body. The missionaries and their wives, with the lady who accompanied them, were seated on the platform, in full view of the immense mass of human beings, through which one mighty pulsation of interest seemed to throb.

The opening prayer was made by the Rev. S. G. Roszell.

The Rev. Mr. Davis, presided with effect and dignity over the meeting. He introduced the missionaries to the audience, and communicated their destiny, together with the fact that they must leave the city for Norfolk on the following morning.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, of the Presbyterian Church, missionary elect, to Africa, and who may be expected soon to sail from this port to his destination, with earnestness and great appropriateness, addressed the meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Nevins, of the Presbyterian Church, next addressed the meeting with energy and great effect.

The Rev. Mr. Spaulding, one of the missionaries, rose, and expressed, in a modest and unassuming tone and manner, the variety and power in the emotions which oppressed him. His address was touching, and drew tears from every eye.

Rev. Mr. Wright, his colleague, then addressed the audience. He spoke in a firm, collected, and prepossessing manner. His farewell was beautifully and feelingly expressed.

The feeling pervading the vast audience, was, at this time, at a most propritious height. The Rev. Mr. Collins, of the Methodist Church, stepped forward, and moved that a subscription should be opened by gentlemen at twenty dollars each, to the number of fifteen, to raise three hundred dollars, for the purpose of giving one hundred dollars to each of the ladies who were nobly leaving kindred, home, and country, for the salvation of Africa. The subscription was immediately filled, and the number extended to twenty, making a sum of four hundred dollars; Light street choir having subscribed twenty dollars, and afterwards adding thirty more.

On the completion of the twenty dollar subscription, another was opened at five dollars to each name, with the design of obtaining fifty subscribers. This subscription was so popul r, that it obtained nearly a hundred names. After which, the plate passed round, and the entire collection and subscription amounted to $1,200. Showers of bank notes and silver were poured upon the platform.

The Rev. Mr. Maffitt next addressed the joyful and melted audience. He did not rise to make a set speech, as the object for which he intended to speak had been accomplished. But he had a farewell to take of the dear and beloved missionaries, who were going to offer themselves as sacrifices on the altar of Africa.

Mr. Maffitt then called upon the audience to offer their fervent supplications to heaven that the dear missionary family might be safely cradled on the bosom of the dark blue sea—that they might stand unharmed amidst the malaria of that sun smitten coast—that we might soon be cheered with news from them, that the Lord had owned and crowned their labors with success.

Miss Farrington, the teacher, then made a few impressive remarks, and pronounced her farewell.

In a strain of melting, gushing emotion, two voices, in the choir, sung the hymn, "When shall we all meet again."

It was like a wandering burst of music from the heavenly world, wafted by evening zephyrs.—Every soul was melted—tears found their way in answer to the deep happiness and tenderness of the emotions which thrilled through the mass of human beings assembled to do honor to the sublime dignity of the missionary enterprize. Suppressed thanksgivings and hallalujahs murmured through an audience that dared not give full utterance to their feelings, lest they should lose a strain of such sweet and plaintive harmony.

Prayers from the Rev. Messrs. Andrew Hemphill and Thomas Sergeant, and a benediction from the Rev. Mr. Davis, closed one of the happiest meetings ever assembled in Baltimore. It was a triumph of holy benevolence—an antepast of that joy which remains for those who, like the blessed Jesus, go about doing good.

A FRIEND TO MISSIONS.

Yankee Enterprize.—The Portland Evening Advertiser, of the 15th, contains a letter from a correspondent, from the upper Mississippi. While ascending that river, a steam boat was met, coming down, wearing a somewhat unusual appearance. She was "the Exchange," says the writer, "significantly so named,—owned and commanded by a yankee, who, in the true spirit of his native craft and habitude, causes his engine, while propelling the boat, to saw shingles too. The manufacture of this article is thus constantly going on, (even when the boat is stationary,) and, by his locomotive facilities, he thus finds a hundred ready markets for his commodities, which he exchanges for produce or money; and, judging by results, he has found the business an exceedingly profitable one. This is but one instance, of very many I have met with, where Yankee ingenuity and hardihood have shown foremost in this wide field of enterprize. I saw Yankees, at the lead mines of Galena, pursuing their object into the very bowels of the earth. At New Orleans, defying pestilence and disease, there, vending the ice of the North, and from thence bringing tropical luxuries to meet the tastes of our settlers here. I saw them, indeed, at every hamlet and town on the river. At St. Louis they collect in numbers, and push their enterprizes to the immense country beyond. They trade to Santa Fe, and with tribes of Indians, impeded by no obstacle, and daunted by no peril. Such is the result of that part of a New England education, which teaches her sons the honor of enterprize, the necessity of industry, and the obloquy of idleness. Such are the characteristics that insure to a people the prosperity of wealth. When, to these are added those influences of moral and intellectual culture which is the aim of New England institutions generally, what can prevent such a people from being great and happy?"—Philad. Herald, Oct. 21.

Female Tact and Courage.—The Editor of the N. Y. Baptist Register, having recently visited the Lunatic Asylum, at Hudson, relates the following instance of the effect of a mild and judicious treatment of an insane patient, which occurred at that place:

"A professional gentleman, of some distinction, of giant size, and great strength, who could fell a man with a blow, escaped from his room, and, on his way through the entry, fell in with another gentleman, in the same state of mental alienation, and proposed to him that they should make a tour through the Union together. He said he would draw on the United States' Bank, in the city of N. York, for $100,000; he would draw on the Bank in Philadelphia, for half that sum, and, on the branches, in one or two other cities, for the same amount; and they would procure the necessary vehicles, and make an excursion through all the U. States. The proposal was agreed to readily, by the afflicted gentleman addressed, with the utmost pleasure and confidence, as to its execution. The keepers became alarmed by the determination manifested; and, on their interference with their further progress, the athletic gentleman insisted upon it, that a positive contract had been made in the matter, and it could not be broken. The keepers, knowing his strength, and apprehending that it would be no light affair to grapple with it, sent for Dr. White. The lady, who manages the interior department, seeing the alarming state of things, and the firm purpose of both gentlemen to escape, walked up politely to the largest one, and asked him for his arm, to this his gallantry very soon yielded, and, after walking off a little way with him, she remarked that he had never given her a history of his interesting family, which she was quite desirous of hearing. This took with him, and she proposed accompanying him up to his room, and hearing an account, from his own lips, of his wife and children. They accordingly ascended the stairs together, she entering his room on his arm. Here she seated herself, and he commenced the narration. In a few moments the doctor arrived, and despatched her little daughter to call her mother. The child went up with haste, and told her the doctor wanted to see her immediately. She politely apologized for leaving him a few moments, and proposed that the story should be resumed on her return. This, of course, was acceded to, and she left the room and closed the door behind her, which, being fastened with a spring lock, effectually secured him in his apartment, and ended the alarming difficulty."

Practical Knowledge in a Legislator.—It cannot be expected that legislators always have a practical knowledge of the subjects which come before them; but when this does happen, the country must derive benefit from the circumstance.—Roger Sherman, when member of congress, detected some extensive frauds in the accounts of a shoemaker, who had taken an army contract.—This grave legislator had been a shoemaker himself, otherwise the fraud would have been undetected.

Some years ago, a bill was brought into the British parliament to tax shops. When a member had finished a long speech against the bill, Sir Gregory Turner rose, and made his first speech, in which he elicited thunders of applause from the galleries for his deep knowledge in the luxuries of trade.

"What," says he, "not tax shops !! I am amazed! They are able to pay any duty almost. I myself knew a little milliner in St. James street, who, from only selling ribbons, and wires, and gauzes, (was there not a little smuggled lace, entre nous?) was able to marry a baronet. Nay, I know it to be a fact, for I am that very baronet, and my wife is that very little milliner. I have looked into her book, and it is astonishing what profits are made even on the wire of a cap. Would you believe it, sir, that lady Gregory Page Turner, when she kept a retail shop in St. James street, could sell a cap for nine shillings, which did not stand her above two and sixpence; and that she might have charged twelve guineas for a cloak, the making and materials of which did not amount to more than four pounds; therefore, I say, the tax is a good one."—Lowell Journal.

Steam Carriage.—On Wednesday last, our townsmen, Messrs. Heaton, (brothers,) made another experiment with their steam coach, to ascend the hill at Broomsgrove Lickey, which is a loose sandy surface, so much so, that the wheels of their machine (about fifty hundred weight) carried a hill of sand before them about three inches deep. The hill is about seven hundred yards along, and rises on an average one yard in nine, and in some places one yard in eight, and is decared by eminent surveyors to be the worst piece of road in the kingdom. This hill was mounted by their machine, with a stage coach attached, fifteen hundred weight, and nine persons, in nine minutes, in the presence of about two hundred spectators.—They then took up their friends, twenty in number, they had brought from Birmingham, with five in addition, making twenty five, and proceeded on to Groomsgrove, as far as the Market place; there they turned the machine round, and returned to the Crabb Mill Inn, about fifteen miles; this was accomplished in two hours and twenty two minutes, including all stoppages. Having staid a considerable time at the Crabb Mill Inn, they returned home, calling at the various places on the road where they had before called in the morning, and receiving the congratulation of their friends at having accomplished the greatest undertaking in the history of steam locomotion on the common road. They arrived in Birmingham, bringing with them, up Worcester street, an ascent of one yard in twelve, thirty two persons.—Birmingham Journal, 2d Sept.

The steam boat Marco Bozzaris sailed from the port of New York, last Monday, for Buenos Ayres, under the command of Capt. Richard Sutton, formerly a ship master out of the New England ports, and latterly a merchant at Buenos Ayres, where the idea by him was first conceived of navigating the Rio de la Plata by steam, for which purpose he has obtained an exclusive grant for ten years from the government. He intends plying between the ports of Montevideo and Buenos Ayres every other evening, a distance of 110 miles—the fare $10—thus performing in a night that which has occupied three days.—Poulson.

An iron steam boat, intended for the canals in Belgium, has been built in Manchester, England. The King is said to be a share holder in the concern.—Scientific gentlemen allege that she appears to be well adapted to canal navigation, having the engine fixed aft, with the paddle wheel out side the stern post, where the rudders of other vessels are fixed; and is steered by two rudders on either side the wheel. Draught of water 5 feet 3 inches, on canal, 21 inches, only.

Man has two hundred and forty six bones: the head and face, sixty three, the trunk, thirty nine, the arms, sixty four, and the lower extremities, sixty.—There are in man two hundred and one muscles, or pairs of muscles.

The flight of Birds.—The rapidity of the flight of several birds has been estimated by ornithologists as follow:

Swallow,	92	"
Eider Duck,	90	"
Falcon,	75	"
Pigeon,	60	"
Crow,	25	"

A falcon, belonging to Henry IV., of France, once flew from Fontainbleau to Malta, in 24 hours. The distance is 1,350 miles.—Juv. Rambler.

A letter from Virginia is published in the Globe, denouncing Mr. Leigh and Mr. Tyler, and giving a Jackson Van Buren sketch of politics in the Old Dominion. This is to give the "faithful," every where due notice of "how the wind is to blow the next quarter." The writer may find himself mistaken.—Alex. Phenix.

According to the Chinese theory, the difference between sycophants and upright ministers at court is this—"Those who awed by the power and station of His Majesty, submit implicity to his will" are the sycophants; the others, such as "pertinaciously reason points with His Majesty, and refuse submission when they believe him to be wrong." The distinction and the passages quoted, are from the translated edict of His Celestial Majesty, inserted in the Canton Register.—Nat. Gaz.

Gen. Mercer, of Virginia.—A dinner was given in Morgantown, Virginia, on the 23d ult., to this polished gentleman, and patriotic citizen. He won the honor, not more by these qualities, than by his indefatigable and successful exertions in behalf of Internal Improvement—and chiefly from that monument of his fame—the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. The toasts became the occasion, and the man. The first, as it should be, was—

"General George Washington—He was first in war—first to discover the great interest of his country, by uniting its Eastern and Western waters, and his memory will ever be the first in the hearts of its citizens"—Philad. Herald, Oct. 21.

Butter in New York.—It is computed, by the New York Farmer, that 10,000,000 pounds of Butter are consumed in New York yearly. This, at 18 cents per pound, gives 1,800,000 to the farmers, in return for their butter.

Property of the Quakers.—It is mentioned, in a Philadelphia paper, that the property held by the society of Friends, in that city, before the late separation, as a joint concern, is worth from three to four millions of dollars. The worth of such property in all the United States must then be many millions.—Niles.

The chain bridge at Bangor, Wales, is a wonderful work of art; it spans with one arch an arm of the sea, passing from Bangor to Carnærvon, and to so great a height from the water, that a seventy four gun ship can pass under it with all her masts standing. [The Boston Gazette asks—why not have such a bridge from New York to Brooklyn.]

The new steam boat "Michigan," lately built at Detroit, arrived here on her first trip down the lake, on Sunday last. The "Michigan" is an elegant boat of 500 tons burthen, fitted up and furnished in the best style. In point of size she is only inferior to the ill fated Washington; and in splendor and beauty of finish, superior. She will now "bear the palm alone."—Cleveland Advertiser.

No person, other than one "believing in the existence of a Supreme Being who will punish false swearing," can be admitted to be sworn in any case in this state. The person offering to testify, cannot lawfully be interrogated as to his belief in the existence of a Supreme Being, or that he will punish false swearing, or his belief or disbelief of any other matter. But the incompetency of the person, by reason of his unbelief, may be proved by other and competent testimony, and in this way he may be rejected.—N. Y. Cour. & Enq.

Desperate Cure for a desperate Disease.—The Newark, New Jersey Advertiser, states, that the wife of Abraham Egbert, of West Bloomfield, recently committed suicide to avoid the sufferings she endured from a drunken husband.

Extracts from the Review of the Philadelphia Market, for the week ending on Friday evening, Oct. 18.

Flour and meal.—In the early part of the week there was little or no demand for superfine Flour for export, and toward the close lower prices were accepted, and the sales amount to about 2,400 bbls. at $5 87 1-2, and 600 barrels Brandywine at $5 94. The Receipts have been light, and we note the arrival of some parcels from New York. About 900 barrels Rye Flour, sold at $3 75, and 960 barrels Corn Meal at $3 37 1-2.

Seeds—Flaxseed continues steady at last week's prices. A wagon load of Clover Seed of first quality on Thursday at $4 75 a $5. Timothy sells at $6 in small lots.

Whiskey—Has declined; sales from store in barrels at 32 cents, and in hhds. at 30 1-2.

Provisions—But little doing in Beef and Pork; Butter is quoted higher, and Lard a shade lower.

Domestic Goods—Sales this week limited, and for some descriptions the prices on the decline.

Cotton—Arrived this week from New Orleans 10 bales; Charleston 29; Wilmington N. C. 74, and Petersburgh, Va. 144; total 257 bales. The sales have been 110 bales, new crop, Virginia at 16 a 17 1-2 cents; 22 bales New Orleans, old crop, at 17 cents; 25 bales Tennessee at 16 a 16 1-4; 50 bales Georgia, at 15 3-4 a 17 cents, 4 mos. and a small lot inferior at 14 cents.

Rice—Continues dull; the principal sale is a lot of 62 tierces, at $3 50 a $3 62 1-2.

Tobacco—Sales of nearly 300 hhds. Kentucky at 6 1-2 a 7 cents, about 100 hhds. taken for a neighboring market. The stock on hands is small, and holders looking for higher prices. A lot of 150 bales Cuba has been sold, but terms not reported.

Coffee.—The market continues rather quiet; the principal sales reported are 360 bags Rio at 13 cents, less 3 per cent. cash, and 400 bags at 12 1-2 a 13 cents, 4 and 5 months, principally at 13 cts., 4 months.

Sugar.—In the sales reported, we note a decline in prices, the principal sales are 140 hhds. Porto Rico at $8 37 1-2 a $8 75; 70 hhds. St. Jago, at $9 a $9 25, and 54 hhds. St. Croix, inferior, at $8, 75 a $9 25.

Cotton—Arrived since the first inst. 4071 bales. No clearance since the 1st of October—stock on hand, inclusive of all on ship board not cleared on the 4th inst. 11,467 bales. There appears to be a fair enquiry for the article, and the sales made come fully up to our remarks and quotations hitherto, say 18 a 18 1-2 cents per lb. for that of fair quality, comparatively, however, the business doing is not important in amount.

Tobacco—The market remains inactive, and with good cause; the article is rare and held at high rates—the only transaction that has taken place this week is a sale of 29 hhds. at 3 3-4, 4 3-4, 5 3-4 cents per lb. for crossed, second and first quality.—Arrived this week 5 hhds.

Sugar—Former quotations remain without change, the article is scarce, and transactions extremely limited.

Bagging and Bale Rope—Begin to arrive somewhat more freely, and are in good demand—Bagging at an advance on former quotations.

Whiskey—The pretensions of holders appear to grow more firm, and some have advanced on former demands; we have, notwithstanding, to repeat our last qualification in quotations, dull.—Arrived this week, 130 bbls.

Lead—Occasional sales take place at the rate last quoted, $5 12 1-2 a $5 16 per 100 lbs. Arrived this week, 1616 pigs.—Levy's Price Current.

TO ENGINEERS.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Subscribers, who resides in Tennessee, wishing to erect a Rolling Mill, at Louisville, Ky., Nashville, Tennessee, or some intermediate point, as may be deemed most advisable, is desirous of informing himself as to the cost of such an establishment, capable of rolling TWELVE TO FIFTEEN HUNDRED TONS OF IRON, of the various descriptions embraced in a general assortment.

As the location of the Mill is yet undetermined, a FULL PROPOSAL is not expected; we will, however, receive Estimates of the cost of the Engine and Machinery, and probable cost of the building; the Contractor to furnish ALL except the ground on which the building shall be erected. The mill to be delivered ready to go into operation. PIANO FORTES.

MR. TAYLOR respectfully announces to the citizens of Pittsburgh, that he has just received an assortment of PIANO FORTES, from the celebrated manufactory of Robert Nunns, Clark, and Co. (late R. & W. Nunns,) of New York, which he offers to the public at a fair price, and liberal terms.

The instruments of this most extensive establishment have (for quality and volume of tone, and for materials and workmanship) received the decided approbation of the most distinguished professors of this country and Europe. The manufacturers therefore feel confident in resting their claims to public patronage upon the intrinsic merits of the Piano Fortes themselves.

FLUTES.

Also, a few of 'Taylor's approved' Flutes; these instruments are well worth the attention of the Amateures of the Flute.

☞Ladies and Gentlemen are invited to call and examine the above instruments, at Cook and Schoyer's (late Sylvester's) store, corner of Wood and Third streets, where they will remain but a short time, Mr. Taylor's stay in this place being limited.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

1	tract of land	containing	330	acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots,	containing about	6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
